The "Grace Notes" for Fall

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The sleeve, the waist line and the skirt length! Those are the three "grace notes" of the fall styles.

Large sleeves, however, have nothing of the old-fashioned clumsiness about them. They are soft and clinging.

The Joseph model of black and gray crepe, embroidered heavily on sleeves, blouse and belt, shows the new large sleeve. The skirt, eight inches from the ground, has the longer sides whose points reach below the ankles.

With this is worn a mushroom hat trimmed in the new glycerine vulgure.

The smart Joseph white blouse, embroidered in black, worn with a black satin skirt is a startling "street" costume. The velvet hat rolled off the face is trimmed in monkey fur.

Miss Elizabeth Lacy, of Richmond, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Cousins.

Mrs. T. Gay Wilkins and Miss Rath are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nottingham at Cape Charles.

Miss Janie Nickols, of Richmond, is visiting relatives in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bass have returned after a visit to friends and relatives near Alberta.
